INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLYING FOR A CHANGE OF LOCATION

A change of location is for Cattle only.

A brand owner may submit an application to change location between two adjoining brand locations on cattle. An example would be right shoulder cattle to right rib cattle or right rib to right hip cattle. The same would apply for the left side of the animal.

To apply for a change of location; submit an application filled out the way your brand is currently recorded along with the brand ID number. The brand recording unit will research the brand for any conflicts on the new location requested.

If there isn't a currently recorded brand other than the brand owners current brand location that conflicts the new location the brand owner(s) must sign a notarized statement giving up the adjoining location. Release of brand statement will be provided by the Wyoming livestock board office, if applicable.

The fee for a change of location is $82.50 and is refundable if the location can't be changed.
